NHFB Programs

Some of the programs we offer include: Commodity Committees, Young Farmers, Boards of Directors, State Board of Directors, and the Associated Women.

New Hampshire Young Farmers

The New Hampshire Young Farmer program involves members of the Farm Bureau between the ages of 16 and 35. This program teaches skills necessary to be the future leaders in Farm Bureau and in the agriculture industry. It is an opportunity to meet with others with similar interests, share ideas and problems, and work together for a better future in agriculture. Activities are organized on the county, state, and national level.

Interested in being part of the NH Young Farmers? Call us today at (603) 224-1934, or Email Diane Clary: dianec@nhfarmbureau.org and "Like" the NH Young Farmers on Facebook.

The Associated Women's Organization

The Associated Women's program is a leadership, education, promotion and social entity available to all Farm Bureau women who are interested in participating. The structure is by design an association (rather than a committee as in the other Farm Bureau states) and the group is guided by its own constitution and elects its own Board of Directors. Women participate in the county, state and national level.

Interested in joining the Associated Women? Email the AW President, Elaine Moore at: mk1mfarm49@gmail.com
